Tentative Bargaining Dates and the Test Ballot is Open

Tentative Bargaining Dates

OSSTF/FEESO has secured tentative central bargaining dates with the Ontario government and provincial employer groups depending on when the Ontario Labour Relations Board (OLRB) delivers its decisions on central scope for the Teacher/Occasional Teacher and the Education Worker negotiations. Members can reference Bargaining Bulletin #10 and #11 for more details on the OLRB process. It is anticipated that the OLRB will deliver its decisions in early November.

The tentative bargaining dates are as follows:

Education Worker Central Table – November 20, December 9, December 10

Teacher/Occasional Central Table – November 24, December 2, December 15

Test Ballot: October 26-30

Strike Vote Ballot: November 6-16

The test ballot is now open on the OSSTF/FEESO provincial website. The test ballot will be available all week until 9 p.m. (EDT) on October 30.

All members covered by the School Boards Collective Bargaining Act are encouraged to take part so they can become familiar with the process and identify any login issues while there is time to resolve them. The test ballot is a practice opportunity. It does not count as a strike vote.

Please reference Bargaining Bulletin #13 for all the information you will need to receive assistance to login to the voting centre, the test ballot, and the strike vote.
